The Norwegian economy – GDP

Source: Statistics Norway, Konjunkturtendensene 3/2026

- Increased household consumption and higher public demand will boost economic activity in the near term. However, low levels of residential construction and reduced petroleum investment will result in consistent growth in the Norwegian economy
- Defense investments increased by 18% in 2025
- On balance, mainland growth is expected to remain close to normal growth in the Norwegian economy of just over 1.5 per cent for the next few years

Source: Statistics Norway, March 2026

- Mainland Norway's GDP increased 0.2 per cent in O1 2026, +1.7 per cent in 2025

- In sum, activity in the Norwegian economy remains resilient and inflation pressures persist, leaving Norges Bank with limited urgency to cut rates

ESG screening for all investments

CO2 Footprint Analysis of the Cover Pool – Background

- Norwegian buildings are predominantly heated with electricity
- Norway has one of the greenest energy source mix for electricity (99% renewable energy, 89% Hydro & 9% wind)
- The carbon intensity for the lifetime of a Norwegian residential building = 115g CO₂/KWh, this compares to much higher carbon intensities for other European countries¹
- Over time, residential buildings in Norway have become more energy efficient – analyzing building codes provides a robust proxy as this data is available for the entire building stock (unlike EPC labels which represent about 50% of all buildings)
- With each new building code, energy efficiency standards for buildings have improved over time
- Multiconsult has estimated the CO₂ footprint of the entire Eika cover pool on this basis

CO2 Footprint Analysis of the Cover Pool – 2025

- As part of our ‘Strategic Framework for Sustainability’, Eika values increased disclosure in terms of scope 3 carbon impact
- The current portfolio, as of December 31st 2025, represents:
 - Yearly energy demand of 878 GWh (805 GWh in 2024) for Eika funded share of collateral
 - Portfolio emission intensity (kg CO₂ -eq/m²) of 2.6 (3.2 in 2024) based on NVE Physically delivered electricity

Mitigation of physical climate risk within Eika cover pool

- Every quarter, the residential mortgage portfolio is run against Eiendomsverdi's energy and climate risk data registers to update market values for the residential mortgage portfolio, as well as data on energy class, area, TEK standard and selected environmental factors
- To identify the vulnerability of the mortgage collateral to natural disasters, i.e. physical climate risk, hazard maps of the mortgage portfolio are prepared (data sourced from governmental institutions¹) for quick clay, flooding, landslides in steep terrain, and storm surges (sea levels)
- As the table shows, mortgage collateral in the Eika Boligkreditt portfolio has a relatively low exposure to climate risks with the highest probability
- The possible financial impact of such risks are greatly mitigated by the Norwegian Mortgage Guarantee Pool
- The Norwegian mortgage guarantee pool is a collaboration in the insurance sector which safeguards mortgages that are implicated by natural disasters, covering damage to real property as a result of storm, flood, storm surge, earthquake and volcanic eruption.
- A precondition in Eika Boligkreditt's mortgage terms is that the mortgage object is insured. Hence, the financial risk stemming from natural perils should be borne by the insurance sector rather than the mortgage borrower
- To date, no cases in Eika Boligkreditt have led to identified loss. The company wants the residual physical risk in its residential mortgage portfolio to be low and feels this has been achieved with a requirement in the mortgage terms on insuring the mortgage object.

Use of Proceeds Criteria

Eligibility criteria: Green Residential Buildings

1. Residential buildings in Norway

- Buildings built ≥2021: Buildings complying with the relevant NZEB-10% threshold¹
- Buildings built <2021: EPC A label or within the top 15% low carbon buildings in Norway²

2. Refurbished residential buildings in Norway

- Leading to a reduction of primary energy demand (PED) of at least 30%³ or comply with the applicable requirements for major renovations

¹ In accordance with the EU Taxonomy Climate Delegated Act, buildings built from 1 January 2021 onwards should meet the 'NZEB -10%' criterion. In Norway, NZEB definitions were announced on 31 January 2023. Compliant buildings are assessed against the respective NZEB threshold published by the Norwegian Ministry, expressed as specific energy demand in kWh/m2. At the time of writing all Norwegian buildings with EPC labels of A and some EPC B labels are compliant with NZEB-10%. The full methodology and selection approach used for NZEB-10% compliant buildings will be published in a technical report from a specialized external consultant (Multiconsult). In addition, model estimates from Eiendomsverdi for PED may be used, as outlined in Eiendomsverdi's report.

² Qualifying building codes and/or EPC labels will be determined with the support of a specialised external consultant and may take into account guidance from the Norwegian Ministry and may use model estimates from Eiendomsverdi for PED where EPCs are missing. The Norwegian residential buildings under building codes TEK10 and TEK17 and EPC label A or B are within the top 15% as of FY23 statistics

³ Qualifying buildings will be determined with the support of a specialised external consultant. The initial primary energy demand and the estimated improvement is based on a detailed building survey, an energy audit conducted by an accredited independent expert or any other transparent and proportionate method, and validated through an Energy Performance Certificate. The 30% improvement results from an actual reduction in primary energy demand (where the reductions in net primary energy demand through renewable energy sources are not taken into account), and can be achieved through a succession of measures within a maximum of three years
